MOISTURE IS NEEDED

Weather and Crop Report of California.

Dry Feed is Plentiful in This Valley But Becoming Scarce Elsewhere.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Dry and generally clear weather prevailed during the past week, except light showers along the southern coast on Saturday and Sunday nights. Light frosts occurred generally in the northern portion of the state on the 18th and 19th, but caused no damage. Throughout the interior of the state the conditions were excellent for fruit drying and raisin making and rapid progress was made with both. The raisin harvest is now nearly over in all districts; the yield was good and the quality excellent. Citrus fruits are making good growth in all sections. Oranges are developing rapidly and promise a large crop of superior quality. In portions of the San Joaquin valley they have begun to color.

Large shipments of Tokay grapes continue from the American river district. Walnuts are generally running to their full capacity. The apple crop will be large and of good quality. Walnuts are maturing slowly in the southern part of the state, but the harvest has commenced in San Luis Obispo county. The crop will be good. The bean crop is nearly all harvested, and is large and of good quality. In the San Diego district the yield of guavas is excellent, and is superior to that of last year both in quantity and quality. The honey yield is good.

Plowing and seeding are progressing in the northern part of the state. Dry feed is plentiful in the San Joaquin valley, but getting poor in other districts. Stock are healthy and generally in good condition. Rain is badly needed in all districts.

Sacramento Valley. Clear weather with pleasant days and cool nights prevailed during the past week. These conditions were favorable for beans and fruit drying. Light frost occurred on the 18th, but caused no damage. Large shipments of Tokay grapes continue from the American river district. Prune drying is about completed; the crop was light. Grapes continue to go to the wineries. Citrus fruits are making excellent progress and promise good crops. Dry plowing and seeding are progressing. Cattle and sheep are in good condition and healthy, but feed is getting scarce. Rain is badly needed. A good apple crop will be harvested.

Coast and Bay Sections. Generally clear weather with pleasant days and cool nights prevailed during the past week. Heavy frosts have occurred in the mountain sections, but caused no damage. Farm work is generally slackening owing to the absence of rain. Plowing is progressing in the northern counties. The apple crop is large and of excellent quality. The bean crop is nearly all in sacks; the crop is large and of good quality. A good crop of walnuts is being harvested. The grape harvest is completed and most varieties were good yield. Pruning is progressing. Dry feed is scarce and cattle are doing only fairly well.

San Joaquin Valley. Clear weather with warm days and cool nights prevailed during the past week. Light frosts occurred generally on the nights of the 18th and 19th, but no damage resulted. Raisins are being hauled to the packing houses which are running to their full capacity. Large shipments of raisins were made to eastern markets during the week. Wine grapes continue to be picked and shipped to the wineries. Olives are progressing and promise a good crop. Alfalfa threshing is about completed. Grapes are coloring slightly and promise a large crop. Dry plowing and seeding are progressing. Dry feed is plentiful and stock are healthy and in good condition.

Southern California. Generally fair weather prevailed during the past week, with light showers along the coast Saturday night and in the extreme south Sunday night. Fruit drying and raisin making are nearly completed. Nine-tenths of the raisin crop is packed and many carloads have already been shipped. Guavas are yielding splendidly, the quality and quantity exceeding that of last year. Walnuts are ripening very slowly. Late potatoes are making good progress. A large crop of beans is being harvested. Citrus fruits are in excellent condition and promise large crops. The water supply is increasing with the cooler weather.

PANAMA CANAL WILL BE COMPLETED WITHIN TEN YEARS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Ishman Randolph, a member of the board of consulting engineers for the Panama canal, has written a letter to Zina R. Carter, president of the sanitary district of Chicago, in which he says he expects the canal to be completed before 1915. The work of preparation, he says, is going on speedily and when the equipment is on hand and the organization perfected at least 24,000 men will be required on the canal. Much of the present labor is worthless because the demand is larger than the supply. The application of the eight-hour system to the canal he regards as a lamentable mistake and will add about 25 per cent to the cost of labor. He declares many statements foreshadowing the removal of all engineering "can" be set down as the manufacture of a news monger.

NEW ORLEANS IS RAPIDLY RESUMING NORMAL CONDITIONS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24.—That the whole country has faith in the success of the federal officers that are fighting against yellow fever is practically proved is shown by the rapidly with which quarantines are being lifted. Meridian, Miss., has finally thrown her gates open to the world and that means the complete resumption of travel over the Queen and Crescent road from Cincinnati to New Orleans. Practically all the towns along the Mississippi Gulf coast have removed restrictions. Biloxi being the last. Large numbers of persons who have been on the coast since the fever started are coming into New Orleans for the "president's reception." As the result of heavy frosts a large number of Mississippi towns have discharged their inspectors and ordered the removal of all embargoes on travel. Jackson, Mill, and Mobile, Ala., being exceptions.

TIGERS SHUT OUT COMMUTERS' TEAM

Change of Air Has Good Effect on Mike Fisher's Royal Bengals—Other Coast Games.

OAKLAND, Oct. 24.—Tacoma shut Oakland out today. Emerson allowed the local team only four scattering hits. For Tacoma, Egan made a home run and Danksy tripped out a three bagger. Tacoma's fielding was errorless. Score: R. H. E. Tacoma.....4 9 0 Oakland.....0 4 2 Batteries—Emerson and Graham; Blexrud and Byrnes. Umpires—Hackett and Hogan.

At San Francisco.—The home team won today's game from Portland in the first inning. Waldron the first man up, walked. Mohler hit to Cates and Atz missed the throw to second. Waldron taking third and Mohler going to second. Hildebrand singled over first, scoring the two runners. After the first inning no more runs were made. Walden pitched a good game for the winners and the playing of Irwin at third was a feature. Score: R. H. E. Portland.....0 1 2 San Francisco.....2 4 1 Batteries—Cates and McLean; Walden and Wilson. Umpire—Davis.

At Los Angeles.—Los Angeles took the opening game from Seattle today notwithstanding that the visitors made one more hit and three less errors than the locals. The eighth inning was Seattle's undoing. In this inning, after two men were out, the locals secured six runs, on four bases on balls, two singles and a double. Jones was taken out in the middle of this inning and Miller substituted, but he failed to check the run getting. In this inning the visitors lost their heads and threw the ball around indiscriminately, allowing the home team to run bases and to score without effort. The eight hits which Seattle secured off Hall were well scattered, and they scored in but two innings. Score: R. H. E. Los Angeles.....7 7 1 Seattle.....2 5 1 Batteries—Hall and Eager; Jones, Miller and Blankenship. Umpire—Perrine.

SAMOAN NATIVES ENJOY PROSPERITY FROM COPRA YIELD

TUTUILA, Samoa, Oct. 10, via San Francisco, Oct. 24.—The quantity of copra produced in the islands has so far the year exceeded the production of all former years, and before the end of the season, in January next, it is expected that the output will be 50 per cent greater than last year. The natives have abundance of money and are spending it in feasting. One small village of a little over 200 people has ordered 100 barrels of beef to commemorate the prosperous year. Governor Moore has ordered a meeting of representatives of the islands to convene towards the end of the present month at Pago Pago for the purpose of discussing island affairs. The people are now appointing the representatives to attend the meeting on their behalf. There will be about fifty delegates to the congress.

TO REDUCE TIME FROM LOS ANGELES TO SALT LAKE CITY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—The Los Angeles, San Pedro and Salt Lake railroad has decided to reduce the running time of its through passenger trains between Los Angeles and Salt Lake to twenty-six hours, which will cut the running time between this city and Chicago to sixty-eight hours.

The through limited train which will be put on by the Salt Lake Union Pacific-Northwestern routes to Chicago, will be known as the "Los Angeles Limited" and the name will appear on every coach of the splendidly equipped train.

HONOLULU, Oct. 17, via San Francisco, Oct. 24.—Henry Kapea, the young Hawaiian who was recently extradited from London on a charge of embezzling about $5000 in securities from the Hawaiian Trust company, pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge Robinson to two and a half years at hard labor.

Our Specialty

There is one class of cases which we call our specialty, probably we so call them because we have had more of these and have been more successful with them than with others. That specialty is headache. Somehow we always feel at home when a patient says he suffers from headache. Seven out of ten can be cured with prop-

lieve you I know it when I have completed the examination and never fit glasses for these but ad-

look for the cause in some other

TO COLORED CITIZENS

President Roosevelt's Address to the Students at Booker T.
Washington's Institute at Tuskegee a Masterly Effort!

TUSKEGEE, Alabama, Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt arrived in Tuskegee at 8:30 this morning, his train being on time. The city was beautifully decorated. A number of arches, the foundation of which were made of bales of cotton, had been erected and covered with bunting. The platform from which the president spoke to the people of the city was made from $30,000 worth of cotton in original bales.

The president's address was short and at its conclusion he left for the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial school.
TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Alabama, Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt reached the grounds of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute after a brief stop in the town of Tuskegee, where he was received by the mayor and other distinguished citizens of Alabama. The president's train was brought directly into the grounds of the institute over its private tracks. From midnight until this morning great crowds of country people, white and black, were arriving from all sections surrounding Tuskegee. A motley assortment of vehicles brought hundreds of persons and were allowed to come into the institute grounds, where the president saw the collection and seemed amused by the sight.

Received at Institute.
The president was received by President Booker T. Washington and members of the faculty and the institute board of trustees. He then entered a carriage made by the students of the school and driven by a student in the school uniform. Four other carriages, also made by the students, in which were seated other members of the president's party, followed. The party proceeded immediately to an elaborately decorated stand in front of the office building, surmounted by the president's flag.

Industrial Parade.
From this point he viewed the educational and industrial parade, upon the preparation of which the students and faculty have been at work for several weeks. This parade was headed by the institute band, led by Bandmaster Elmer B. Williams of the Ninth United States Cavalry, who had been detailed to Tuskegee by the war department.
Then came 1,500 students of the school in two divisions: the young men uniformed in blue suits with brass buttons, white gloves and cadets' caps. The young women, wearing blue dresses trimmed with red braid and wearing blue hats, followed, each bearing a cotton ball all raised to the school's agricultural experiment station.
Immediately behind the student body came sixty-one floats, representing the various phases of work of the academy department and the thirty-seven industrial departments of the school.

The parade had passed and the students, faculty and visitors were returning to the chapel the presidential party was driven hurriedly about the grounds and was shown the extent and scope of work being carried on by the institute. Then to the chapel the party was taken, where the students, led by the institute choir of 150 voices, sang a number of plantation melodies.

Washington Speech.
Booker T. Washington then presented the president in the following words:
"This is a great day for the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute; too great to be described by words. We have gathered to hear but one voice;
to see but one face.

"To the people of the South, as well as to the black, it is of the utmost importance that the negro be encouraged to make himself a citizen of the highest type of usefulness. It is to the interest of the white people that this policy be conscientiously pursued, and to the interest of the colored people opportunities for economic development here in the South must now be offered elsewhere. Within the last twenty years the industrial operations of the South have increased so tremendously that there is a scarcity of labor almost everywhere; so that it is the part of wisdom for all who wish the prosperity of the South to help the negro to become in the highest degree useful to himself and therefore to the community in which he lives.

Need of the South.
"The South has always depended, and now depends chiefly upon her native population for her work. In view of the scarcity of labor, not only of common labor, but of skilled labor, it becomes doubly important to train every available man to be of the utmost use by developing his intelligence, his skill and his capacity for conscientious effort. Hence the work of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute is a matter of the highest practical importance to both the white man and the black man, and well worth the support of both races alike in the South and in the North. Your 1500 students are not only being educated in industrial efficiency, but also trained in industrial efficiency, for from the beginning Tuskegee has placed especial emphasis upon the training of men and women in agriculture, mechanics and household duties.

"Training in these three fundamental directions does not embrace all that the negro, or any other, race needs, but the field in which the negro can at present do most for himself and be most helpful to his white neighbors.
Every black man who leaves this institute better able to do mechanical or industrial work, adds by so much to the wealth of the whole community,
and benefits all people in the community.

The Negro's Chief Avenue.
"The professional and mercantile avenues to success are overcrowded; for the present the best chance of success awaits the intelligent worker at some mechanical trade, or in some other industrial line. This man will almost certainly achieve industrial independence. I am pleased, but not the least surprised, to learn that many among the women and men trained at Tuskegee find immediate employment as leaders and workers among their own people, and that their services are greatly sought by white people for various kinds of industrial work.
The demand being much greater than the supply.

"Viewed from any angle, ignorance is the costliest crop that can be raised in any part of this Union. Every dollar put into the education of either white man or black man, in head, in hands and in heart, yields rich dividends to the entire community. Merely from the economic standpoint it is of the utmost consequence to all our citizens that institutions such as this at Tuskegee should be a success. But there are other and even higher reasons that urge us to our support. In the interest of humanity, of justice and of self-protection, every white man in America, no matter where he lives, should try to help the negro to help himself. It is in the interest and for the protection of the white man to see that the negro is educated.

To White Man's Interest.
"It is not only the duty of the white man, but it is to his interest, to see that the negro is protected in property, in life and in all his legal rights. Every time a law is broken every individual in the community has the moral tone of his life lowered. Lawlessness in one section, lawlessness is not confined to any one section, and there is no body of American citizens who have deserved so well of the entire American people as the public men, the publicists, the clergymen, the countless thousands of high-minded private citizens, who have done such heroic work in the South in arousing public opinion against lawlessness in all its forms and especially against lynching. I very earnestly hope that their example will count in the North as well as in the South, for there are just as great evils to be warred against in one region of our country as in another, though they are not in all places the same evils. These men not merely serve a useful purpose but they do so in such a way that they set themselves, but they give life to the cause of good citizenship throughout the Union.

"I heartily appreciate what you have done at Tuskegee and I am sure you will not grudge my saying that it could not possibly have been done save for the loyal support you have received from the white people of the South during the twenty-five years of effort to educate the black man here in the midst of a white community of intelligence and culture, there has never been an outbreak between the races, or any difficulty of any kind. All honor is due to the white men of Alabama, to the white men of Tuskegee, for what they have done.

"And right here let me say that if any community misunderstanding between the races arises over any matter, infinitely the best way out is to have a prompt, frank and full conference and consultation between representatives of the white, decent, cool-headed men among the whites, and the wise, decent, cool-headed colored men. Such a conference will always tend to bring about a better understanding and will be a great help all around.

Negro's Obligations.
"Hitherto I have spoken chiefly of the obligations existing on the part of the white man. Now let me remember on the other hand that no help can be maneuvered to your aid as you young colored men and women, educated at Tuskegee, must by precept and example show your fellows toward sober, industrious, law-abiding lives. You are, in honor-bound to join hands in enforcing the laws and to war against all crimes, and especially against crimes by men of your own race, for the heaviest wrong done by the criminal is the wrong to his own race.

"You must teach the people of your race that they must scrupulously observe any contract into which they involve faith enter, no matter what it is hard to keep or not. If you save money, secure homes and lead clean, decent, modest lives you will win the respect of your neighbors of both races.
Let each man strive to excel his fellows only by rendering substantial service to the community in which he lives. The colored people have many difficulties to pass through but these difficulties will be surmounted if only the policy of reason and common sense is pursued.

Progress of Colored Race.
"You have made real and great progress. According to the census, the colored people of this country own and pay taxes on something like $200,000,000 worth of property, and have blotted out over 50 per cent of the illiteracy.
What you have done in the past is an indication of what you will be able to accomplish in the future under wise leadership. Moral and industrial education is what is most needed in order that this progress may continue.

"The race cannot expect to do everything at once. It must learn to wait and bide its time; to prove itself worthy by showing its possessions of perseverance, of thrift, of self control. The teachings of the race is chiefly in its own hands and must be worked out patiently and persistently along these lines. Remember also that the white man who can be of most use to the colored man is that colored man's neighbor. It is the Southern people themselves who must and can solve the difficulties that exist in the South. Of the Union can help the people of the rest of the world, the colored man must and will be gladly and cheerfully given. The hope of advancement for the colored man in the South lies in his steady, common-sense effort to improve his moral and material condition and to work in harmony with the white man in rebuilding the commonwealth. The future of the South depends upon the people of both races to living up to this principle and letter of the laws of their several states and working out the destinies of both races, not as races, but as law-abiding American citizens."

GEORGE D. COLLINS IN SAN FRANCISCO COURT

Most Answer to Perjury Charge on Friday and is Held on $15,000 Bail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—George D. Collins, the attorney accused of bigamy and perjury, reached here today from Victoria, B. C., charged by Detective Thomas Gibson, and was placed in a cell at the city prison.

Soon after he had been lodged in jail,
Collins filed a petition with Superior Judge Cook for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was denied on the grounds of an insufficient showing being made.

The case set for arraignment was heard by Judge Lennon in Judge Law-lor's department of the Superior court.
Collins appearing as his own attorney.
The court overruled several technical objections made by Collins, and directed the arraignment on the perjury charge to proceed.

After the arraignment Collins asked for a week within which to prepare his answer. This was opposed by District Attorney Bryington, and Friday afternoon was set as the time for the answer.

On Bryington's motion, Collins' bail was then increased from $10,000 to $15,000.

SPANISH LIBERALS WELCOMED LOUBET IN REPUBLICAN TERMS.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—The senators and deputies favorable to the establishment of a Spanish republic, having been forbidden personally to address President Loubet, who arrived here yesterday,
have published an address of welcome
which in reality is a manifesto in favor of a republican form of government. It
says:

"The Republicans of Spain greet the ruler who is the free choice of the people he represents. The adoption of a Spanish republic, having been for-bidden personally to address President Loubet, who arrived here yesterday,
have published an address of welcome
which in reality is a manifesto in favor
of a republican form of government. It
says:

"The address closed with 'Vive la Republic'.

President Loubet today attended a brilliant military review and later accompanied King Alfonso and the royal family to Cordoba, where the president witnessed a bull fight.

PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The wheat market was firm throughout the session. At the opening the December option was at a shade to 1/4c higher at 87 to 87 1/2c.
The principal cause of the initial firmness was an advance in the price of wheat at Liverpool, said to be due to smaller offerings of wheat from Russia and Danubian ports.

Unsettled weather in the United States was another factor instrumental in stimulating purchases. The government bureau officially forecasted quite general rains for tomorrow.

Greatest significance, however, was attached to cable news suggesting increase European demand for food stuffs.
The railroad strike in Russia attracted much attention. A blockade, it was asserted, would seriously hamper shipments of grain from Russia. Shorts and commission houses were active bidders during the latter part of the day.
For December the highest point of the session was reached at 87 1/2c to 87 3/4c. An increase of 3,575,000 bushels in the visible supply started some short selling by pit traders late in the day. The close, however, was firm with December at 87 1/2c to 87 3/4c, a fair 3c.
Wet weather and light receipts imparted firmness to the corn market. December closed firm at 1/2c to 1/2c higher, at 45 1/2c.

Sentiment in the oats market was bullish. December closed 1/2c to 1/2c higher at 20 1/2c. Provisions were firm in sympathy with the strength of grain.
At the close January pork was up 7 1/2c;
lard was a shade higher and ribs were up 5c.

San Francisco Grain.
San Francisco.—Wheat easy; December, 81.30c bid.
Barley, Easy — December, 81.10c;
May, 81.19c.
Corn—Large, yellow, $1.40 to $1.45.
Bran—$22 to $22.50.

Dried Fruit Market.
New York.—The market for evaporated apples is firm. New supplies coming to hand are being exported and there is no pressure to sell. Common to good, 5c to 6c; nearby prime, 7 1/2c to 7c;
prime, 8c to 8 1/2c.

Prune are rather firm, owing to an improved demand, following cooler weather. Quotations range from 4 1/2c to 7c, according to grade.

Apples are in slight improved demand, also; choice, 8 1/2c to 9c; extra choice, 9 1/2c to 9 3/4c, and fancy 10c to 11c.
Peaches are nominal for spot. Fruit for future shipment is sparingly offered and prices rule firm.

Raisins are unchanged. Loose Muscatsels, 6 1/2c to 7c; seeded raisins, 5 1/2c to 6c; and London layers, at $1.15 to $1.20.

Butter, Cheese and Eggs.
San Francisco.—Butter—Fancy creamery, 31c; seconds, 25c.

inal; Eastern, 20c to 25c.

SLICK BANK THIEF ARRESTED IN VIENNA —KILLORAN'S EARNINGS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—An American believed to be the noted Joseph Killoran is under arrest at Vienna charged with being the leader of a gang that recently stole $4000 from a Vienna bank.
The robbery was entirely in keeping with Killoran's record for daring exploits in this country. The American, it was said today, entered the bank during the busy hours and engaged in conversation with a depositor who had just taken out about $4000 to the cashier's window. During the conversation the money disappeared. The Vienna police, saying the American had confederates in the room who took the money while he occupied the owner's attention. The man gave the name of James Howard.
Joseph Killoran, on July 4, 1905, together with other prisoners in the Lindbergh street jail, New York, with no other weapons than pieces of brass pipe which they made believe were revolvers, crowded the guard and walked out of jail.

JURORS HAD A WINE FEST

Emmons' Trial Was Not Upon Teetotal Basis.

Four Hundred Bottles of Wine, Beer and Whiskey Were Supplied Jury.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 24.—The Em-mons case was resumed this afternoon in Judge Hart's court. Attorney Johnson continuing his motion for a new trial for the convicted former senator, in proof of misconduct on the part of the jury, the attorney had the courthouse junior bring in two dozen empty quart whiskey bottles which had been found in the jury room after the trial.
C. W. Haub testified that he is keeper of the Delmonico restaurant, where the jury was boarded. He said the deputy sheriff instructed him to let the jurors have a cocktail before breakfast and beer and wine at meals. Four jurors drank no liquors. At meals claret and beer were furnished. On each excursion of the jury he supplied four quarts of white wine, two of Angelica, two of claret, two dozen of beer, two dozen of iron brew and one bottle of whiskey.
He furnished Noble whiskey and none of the bottles found in the room are of that kind. The goods were supplied by order of the deputy sheriff. The last meal was brought to the jury room and no liquors were brought there.

In the whole month he furnished three dozen quart bottles of whiskey. Four men of the jury never took any drinking. Juror Amabile, however, he thought, did not drink liquor. He would not say the jurors had drunk at all meals. He was never present at breakfast. The witness said there are about twenty drinks to a quart bottle. The drinks the jury took were average. At no time was a bottle of whiskey left on the table. He never saw any of the jurors any evidences of drinking. The so-called quart bottles do not hold a quart each.

On the last trip eight bottles of beer and four of iron brew were returned unused. There were always two and sometimes three deputy sheriffs with the jury and they drank as did the others.
More beer was drank than wine and at breakfast there never was wine or beer used.

He estimated that in all he furnished 150 bottles of claret, 200 of beer, sixteen of white wine and three dozen of whiskey. None of the jurors drank wine to excess. Witness said the bottles shown in court, bearing the name of a Woodburn firm, had contained either brandy or whiskey, judging by the smell.

Peter Schmitt, who owns the Delmonico restaurant, waited on the jury most of the time at breakfast. Whiskey was taken into the jury. Juror Sherburn was always "hitting it." Only average drinks were taken.

Attorney Grove L. Johnson here filed an affidavit made by defendant Emmons to the effect that prior to the rendition of the verdict he had no knowledge of the use of liquors by the jurors and the court took an adjournment until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It is expected that on behalf of the people it will be shown that when the jurors entered upon occupancy of the room it found a great lot of empty bottles; that the jurors used to toast themselves with the liquor and that they
to how they came to be there; that no liquor was taken into the jury room that no mutual drinking of any kind was indulged in; that several of the jurors, accustomed to regular drinks, had medical advice that there must be no sudden stoppage; that by reason of abstinence one or two were made sick;
that the juror had medical advice as to allowing drinks to be supplied in certain cases; that table wine is drunk by some of the jurors in their homes in preference to tea or coffee and, finally, that no juror was mentally affected by reason of anything served at the jury's meals.

MUTINOUS CREW LOCKED IN FOCSLE OF BRITISH VESSEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The British ship Burmah, Captain Jones, chartered to load a general cargo at Victoria, was towed outside this morning with her crew in mutiny and locked up in the forecastle.

When the men were ordered to weigh anchor a deputation from before the mast told the captain that they had not shipped for Victoria and did not propose to make the trip there at this season of the year. They claimed that they had been deceived as to the ship's destination and delivered the ultimatum that not a man would return to the forecastle the captain ordered the exits from the men's quarters barricaded and signalled for a tug to come alongside. The ship's officers got up the anchor, and the tug took the vessel down the bay and outside the heads.

CLEMENCY SHOWN AN ARMY OFFICER BY WAR DEPARTMENT.

PORTLAND, Oct. 24.—A special dispatch to the Evening Telegram from Vancouver barracks, Wash., says word has been received from the department of war at Washington to the effect that the sentence of the court martial board in the case of First Lieutenant Louis McL. Hamilton, of dismissal from the service, has been mitigated by reducing Hamilton thirty numbers in grade. He was tried for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and conduct prejudicial to military discipline.

Merit Rewarded.

The friends of Mr. Dave Adams, for many years connected with the clothing store of Kutter-Goldstein Co., will be pleased to learn of his promotion as head of the firm's grocery department to succeed Mr. Wiley, who has resigned his position to accept the general agency of the Alhambra Mineral Water Co., for the San Joaquin valley.

Mr. Adams is no stranger in the grocery business, having for many years been at the head of some of the best grocery stores in Fresno, and is in close touch with the wants of the Fresno trade.

Mr. Forman, for many years a successful clothing salesman in Fresno, has succeeded Mr. Adams as head of the clothing department at Kutter's.

THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN

Published by Fresno Republican Publishing Co.

CHESTER H. ROWELL, Editor and Manager

ROOSEVELT IN THE SOUTH.

President Roosevelt has shown himself the most skilled politician of the age. Whether it is adroitness or genius, perhaps history can judge better than we, but in either case it is wonderfully successful. Just as the accomplishment of peace in the Orient was the supreme accomplishment of Roosevelt as a statesman, so this trip through the South is his supreme accomplishment as a politician. It has been frankly a "jolly" tour, for the dissemination of "hot air," but the eagerness with which the dose was swallowed is the highest tribute to the palatability with which it was concocted. In other words, Roosevelt went South to say not wise things, but tactful things, and he has succeeded wonderfully. He has succeeded not merely in winning the personal regard of the Southern people, but, still more important, in breaking down much of the remnant of sectional feeling existing there. And he has done it by methods remarkably simple. He has shaken hands with the widow of Stonewall Jackson, and expressed genuine delight in seeing her. He has praised the valor of Southern soldiers, and uttered the obvious truism that the memory of their valor is a heritage of the nation. He has visited his mother's Southern birthplace, been photographed with two of the old family slaves, and told how his great-grandfather was the first revolutionary governor of Georgia, and two of his uncles were officers in the Confederate navy. And finally, yesterday, in an address to the negro students at Tuskegee, Alabama, he omitted to say a word about the political rights of the negro. This was tactful, as respects the Southern white people, and the choice of Tuskegee as the place in which not to say it was tactful toward the negroes, since that is the place in which the most respected leader of their race also studiously and conspicuously omits to talk politics.

To say that these things are tactful is not to say that they are insincere or untrue. On the contrary, they are an absolutely truthful expression of President Roosevelt's genuine feelings, in which, so far as they go, the whole nation also shares. But the choice of these pleasant personal details and inconsequential truisms is nevertheless deliberate. President Roosevelt knows very well that the issues and problems, over whose surface he has skipped, go far beneath that surface, and he has very profound convictions in regard to their deeper reaches. But he has not discussed these deeper reaches, simply because he realizes that what the South now wants is not wise advice on great questions, but the assurance of personal sympathy. The people of the South know that their problem is long and difficult. What they want is some assurance that the North realizes it, too, and that it credits their honesty of purpose in facing it. There is no longer any fundamental difference to divide the North and South. All that was left was a tradition of personal hostility. McKinley differed with the South on the most vital questions, and imposed negro officials on them whole-sale, but he went among them with his lovable personality, and suggested the gentle sentiment of decorating the graves of the Blue and the Gray together, and the great heart of the South went out to this hostile but sympathetic man. Roosevelt, agreeing with the South far more closely than McKinley, appointing no more negroes than Cleveland, nevertheless impressed the South with the decision that he was personally unsympathetic to them. So they hated and lampooned him. Now they find that he is personally near to them, in feeling and associations, and that is all they wanted to know.

It was a thing well worth while doing, and it has been well done. There will be time enough later for the application of wise statesmanship to knotty problems. It is enough for the present that a basis of personal friendliness has been established, by reason of which more frank and honest consideration of the serious things will be made possible.

ADS BY WIRE.

Early in the insurance investigations, the Republican called attention to the fact that many newspapers, notably the San Francisco Chronicle, were printing for pay alleged news dispatches discrediting the news correctly printed in other columns of the same papers. The testimony before the investigating committee yesterday made public the method already personally familiar to the managers of all the principal newspapers, by which this is done. There is in New York a so-called "Telegraphic News Bureau," conducted by one Allen Fornum, who has been trying for some time to make contracts with newspapers for the publication of telegraphed news items as advertisements, at rates much above the regular advertising charges. Many newspapers accepted these contracts, and others accepted them for strictly unobjectionable matter. When the insurance investigation started, Charles B. Smith, advertising agent of the New York Mutual, arranged with Fornum to get dispatches written by Smith into as many papers as would take them, at a dollar a line. For a statement that President McCurdy's testimony had made a favorable impression, he paid $2 a line, and thought it was cheap at that, which it was.

To "save his face," Smith now claims that the news he hired printed was matter omitted by the Associated Press. Any one who has read the dispatches knows better. The facts stated in these paid dispatches were completely covered in the Associated Press dispatches of the same day—much more completely covered than they were in the paid dispatches. But the paid dispatches carefully cut out some facts and emphasized others, with the result that the total impression given was absolutely false. Only the publication in the same papers of the honest dispatches of the Associated Press prevented the policyholders of the Mutual from being deceived, at their own expense, as to the facts of the investigation.

From the standpoint of the insurance companies, this expenditure of several thousand dollars of the policyholders' money for the purpose of hiring newspapers to deceive those policyholders was of course straight stealing. Legitimate advertising, to increase the business of the company, is no doubt one of the legitimate expenses of an insurance company as of any business. But a considerable part of even the straight advertising of the companies has really been subside and blackmail. There is a whole flock of "insurance papers" in the country, fattening on the crumbs dropped from insurance companies' tables. Some of these papers are the property of the subsidized organ of some one company. Where the relation is not concealed, they may serve a useful purpose. Others are independent journals with a general circulation, seeking general advertising patronage. Some of these may have a circulation which makes publicity in their pages worth what it costs. Others make a practice of "roasting" the companies that do not advertise with them, and of "boosting" those that do. They are of course straight blackmailers, and the money paid them for advertising is bribery. A part, then, of the advertising appropriation of the companies is spent on business principles and a part in the promotion of crime. But this appropriation to falsify the telegraph news of daily papers, and deceive their policyholders at their own expense, is worse than even bribery. The use of it was criminal, and the defense of it as legitimate shows total moral obliquity.

From the standpoint of the newspapers, the case is scarcely better. The advertising columns of newspapers are for sale, for business announcements. The newspapers do not ordinarily inquire into the truthfulness of these announcements, so long as they are legitimate on their face and decently expressed. Sometimes a known fake or fraud will be excluded, but this is no guarantee that other fakes may not slip in unknown or ignored. But the news columns, and especially the telegraph columns, should be sacred. Space in the news columns for business statements may be for sale. But space anywhere to garble or falsify the news ought not to be for sale at any price. It has been the glory of the Associated Press that its news is incorruptible. It is not too much to say that the stability of American liberty depends on keeping it incorruptible. But if a fake "telegraph news bureau" may insert corruption among incorruption, the whole will be corrupted. This lesson should teach the papers of America to set their faces firmly against this new seductive but dangerous temptation.

UNIONS FOR THE BONDS

Four Bodies Have Already Taken Favorable Action.

The union labor men of Fresno are showing themselves to be in favor of the voting of the bonds next Tuesday. This action is giving great encouragement to those who are interested in the public improvements that the bonds will permit.

Last Friday evening the Federated Trades and Labor Council met, approved both issues and passed the whole matter down to the various unions for approval.

Monday night, the Cooks and Waiters met and approved the bonds. Last night the Clerks' union had a large meeting at which the question was discussed and then unanimously approved. The Carpenters' union also met and gave its support to the proposed improvements.

It is fully expected that the other unions in the Federated Trades will also express accordance with the ideas already advanced.

WILL PLANT A CITY AVENUE

San Pablo Improvement Club Meets This Evening.

The San Pablo Improvement club will meet at 8 o'clock this evening at the residence of George Marks, the president, No. 444 San Pablo avenue. The purpose of the meeting is the discussion of the proposed bond issues, and of various matters of more particular interest to the street.

The club was formed last year and a plan adopted for the planting of a uniform scheme of trees upon that handsome avenue. This work is to be done this fall, and final arrangements will be made this evening. The trees to be planted are acacias. The club has a considerable fund on hand for its contemplated improvements.

We have just received a line of Children's Dress Shoes that would do you good to look at. They are dreams of beauty.

Little patent kids with white calf tops, big white eyelets and ribbons to match. Come in and see them.

WORKMEN PLANNING FOR ANNIVERSARY

Social Entertainment and Banquet Friday Night to Signify the Event.

The Workmen are preparing for a grand celebration of the 7th anniversary of the founding of the order. The celebration will take the form of a social entertainment and banquet to which are bidden all Workmen and their families and the Martha Lodge, Degree of Honor. The affair will take place next Friday night in A. O. U. W. hall, the following competent committee being in charge of arrangements: Ray Baker, Robert Hunt, S. P. Williams, A. Estabrook, M. Bibby. A speech was made last night by J. T. Gallman on the good of the order and C. R. Hillgrove was reinstated in the order. On Saturday a visit is expected from Past Supreme Master Tate of Denver, who is unable to get here the day before for the anniversary celebration, as he will be in attendance at the celebration in Los Angeles on that night. A delegation from the order will look after the distinguished visitor on Saturday, probably taking him for an auto ride about the country.

Following the regular session last night a meeting was called of the Past Masters' association, a newly formed branch of the order in Fresno. It has just been organized with a membership of about twenty-five. Outside of San Francisco Fresno is the only place where this branch has been formed. None but past officers are eligible and the society is of a beneficiary nature. There was a large attendance last night.

The Artisans held a busy session last night and the members were nearly all present. Dr. Ely, the district grand marshal from Portland, Oregon, was a distinguished visitor and addressed the members on the subject of a membership campaign and other matters of much importance to lodge members. Mrs. Albertina Atkinson was initiated into the order and the following list of applications were received: Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Van Meter, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sticklin, Mrs. Ida Benham, Mrs. Annie Howard, Mrs. Josie Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cutler and Ora Reed.

The hall was appropriately decorated with greens and garlands for the occasion and refreshments concluded a profitable as well as a most enjoyable evening.

W. O. W. Manzanita camp, W. O. W., received a communication last night from the head of the council, I. L. Boak, that he would visit the camp on November 28th. As this is the only camp south of Stockton to be visited by this official, it is likely that the neighboring camps will all be represented. Councilor Boak will make a speech and there will be a committee appointed next meeting night to arrange for the social side of the entertainment. Next Tuesday will be the fifth meeting night of the month and consequently business will be dispensed with and a social evening enjoyed. The committee in charge includes George Stanford, C. W. Turner, G. W. Spear. Council commander Paddock of Madera, and Brother McClellan of Martinez were visitors. One application for membership was received.

Druids. Umbert Grove of Druids held a formal business session last night. The grove will install officers the first meeting night in November and expects to have a visit from several grand officers at that time.

American Mechanics. General George Washington Council, No. 49, Jr. O. U. A. M., met in regular session last evening with a good attendance. One application for membership was received. A social meeting will be held next Tuesday evening. The following committee has charge of the arrangements: C. E. Morris, C. E. Morris, H. C. Hull and J. J. Gorman have been appointed a committee to confer with the labor organizations and other societies of this city for the purpose of having them adopt resolutions favoring the restriction of undesirable immigrants to this country.

DEATH OF ALONZO REESE

Had Run Away From Hospital Last Thursday.

Alonzo Reese, a man between 60 and 70 years of age, died yesterday afternoon of lung trouble at the lodging house over the Trill Edge saloon. No physician had been attending him and he was cared for during the last few days by a chance friend named Monroe. Little is known of Reese except that he had been at the county hospital and ran away from there last Thursday, taking a room at this lodging house. He complained of violent pains in his chest, but refused to be moved back to the hospital. He died about 4 o'clock in the evening.

Reese stated that he had at one time owned a farm near Fresno, and also that he had practiced medicine. He said he had daughters living near here, but they paid no attention to him.

The body was removed to the morgue, and an inquest will be held today.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Dr. J. Howard Taylor, a specialist in nervous diseases, died today, aged 80.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. Ask your own doctor about taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for this, impure blood.

Gas Advice For Thrifty, Economical Housewives

Don't light the burners until ready to use. Don't neglect to turn the flame very low when the boiling point is reached. Don't cook in a slow oven, allow it ten minutes to get warm. Don't bake pies, pastry or layer cakes in a slow oven, have a hot fire and turn up all the burners.

INSURANCE GRAFTERS BEING INVESTIGATED

This dispatch recited some of the testimony of Frederick Crowwell, treasurer of the Mutual Life, before the investigation committee and was sent to about 100 newspapers. It cost the Mutual Life insurance company $5000 or $6000. "It was my intention to send out those portions that the Associated Press neglected to send out," said Smith.

The kind of "news."

Witness said that he had sent out five or six different dispatches during the investigation, each dispatch going to from fifteen to 100 different newspapers. The dispatches dated October 18, giving a part of the testimony of President R. A. McCurdy, were recognized by Smith. He said he believed they were all paid for at the rate of $1 a line.

Witness said the money had been paid to the Telegraphic News Bureau. The last line of this dispatch read that President McCurdy's testimony created a favorable impression.

Hughes inquired whether it cost him a higher price to get a dispatch inserted in the newspapers than if it had been acquired in an impartial way by those who furnished news to the papers. Smith replied that the matter he had furnished was the truth and such matter as the policyholders would be pleased to read. It was important to let them know what the company had done for them.

"And it is important also for them to know that Mr. McCurdy's testimony made a distinctly favorable impression," asked Hughes. "It made a favorable impression on me," said the witness.

"You paid $2 a line for the part which read 'Mr. McCurdy made a distinctly favorable impression,'" said Hughes. "Yes, and it was worth it."

Hughes then showed the witness three vouchers for the payment of $3045, $1558 and $632, respectively, which the witness said were for telegraphic news dispatches but he could not describe the dispatches.

Smith stated that upward of $11,000 had been expended by the Mutual Life since the insurance investigation began for dispatches reporting the proceedings and that when the bills were all in they would probably amount to $14,000.

Witness had been connected with this department of the Mutual Life insurance company about one month. Previous to that his duties were varied.

"It seems to be your general duty to attend to all alarms and ascertain the cause thereof," said Senator Armstrong. "Yes, and find all the blackmailers; it is an awful job too," replied Smith. Smith said there are sixty-three insurance newspapers and that the Mutual Life is represented in all of them.

NEW BLOCK AND HOTEL

Patterson-Forsyth J Street
Lots Sold.

Building to Be Erected By C. J. Lindgren and Leased for Ten Years.

Fresno is to have another fine business block. The papers will be signed today that will assure the erection of a four-story building on the fifty-foot frontage immediately south of the Forsyth building on J street, which is to be occupied by a first-class hotel, run on the European plan.

A number of plans for the extension of the Forsyth building southwards have been forming during the last few months, but a deal is now perfected. The Fresno Realty Investment company, the stock of which is all owned by Colonel Forsyth and T. W. Patterson, owns the fifty feet on J street south of the Forsyth building, and will convey it today to Mrs. C. J. Lindgren, the wife of the well known contractor. Mr. Lindgren will proceed to the construction of the building at once.

With the exception of the ground floor, which will be a storeroom, the entire building will be occupied by the hotel. There will be sixty rooms, fifteen on a floor. The Sequoia Hotel company has arranged a lease of the building, and will run it in connection with the present Sequoia cafe.

The deal includes permission to make use of the elevator in the Forsyth building and to cut a large archway through the south wall into the new building. Entrance to the hotel will be thus had from the Tulare street side as well as from the J street.

The hotel company, which is composed of Manager Schubert of the cafe, and a number of local capitalists, has taken a ten years' lease of the property about to be erected, and will put it on a first-class basis. It is provided that the building, of which McDougall Brothers are the architects, shall be a continuation of the style of the present building, plain and massive in appearance and faced with cream brick. The new structure will run back about 110 feet to the line of the engine room of the Forsyth property.

FRESNO AND FOOTBALL.

Selma Has Arranged a Game But the Local Boys Seem Chary.

The remnants of last year's football squad once in a while thinks of a game this year. Each and every member of the old squad is very careful how he expresses himself, for fear that some of the creditors of last year's season may attempt to collect from him. The disastrous end of the financial management of the old team has made the local pigskin enthusiasts rather chary about taking up the game this year. No organization of any kind has been attempted and from all appearances the organization will be left until the last minute.

The last minute means along in December, for all football followers agree that there must be the usual holiday game between Selma and Fresno. The chances are that a team will be gotten together and the Selma boys played with only a small amount of team practice. This has been the program in most of the previous seasons. Last year, however, a different policy was adopted. The development of a team was commenced early in the season and when Selma was played in January, Fresno had a team to make good.

It is a pity that the Selma boys were so poorly handled as to leave a defeat of $200 a matter of regret among football men because of the black eye given the game among business men here.

Selma is counting on a game. Some little work among the old reliables of that town has been done. Next Sunday a team from Selma will meet Hanford, probably at Selma. The eight of Selma in harness may stir the local boys up to some degree of activity.

Fresno, his loss some of last year's best men, but with the learning bestowed upon the remnants during the last season there is foundation here for a winning squad. Most of the heavy line is still available. Fred Scott, quarter, is in Nevada and will not play with the local team. Last year, just as Fresno had Selma where she could be walked over like wooden Indians, Scott consented to the shortening of the half and allowed his old townmates from Selma to go free of the drubbing Fresno had laid up for them. On last year's squad were several men who could take the quarter's job and give Selma a chase for his money.

Red Stephenson is in Southern California and there is little hope of getting him back here even for the final game with Selma. His place will be a hard one to fill, for fullbacks of his ability are seldom to be found in town athletic clubs. Fresno should not lack for halves. Last year there were four men able to carry the ball. It is for many yards and if they will go into the game they are enough of the four to furnish plenty of material for the halves. If Fresno half way tries a team can be picked up here that will defeat the old rival, Selma.

Fake Sales.

Mayor Lyon has called a special meeting of the City Trustees for this evening at the city hall, to consider an ordinance to be proposed by him imposing a license of $25 a day on so-called "creditors' sales" of alleged bankrupt stocks shipped in from out of town. Fresno merchants have complained of these sales in the past, both on account of their demoralizing effect on business, and especially by reason of the false statements advertised of the source and nature of these alleged bankrupt stocks. Mayor Lyon is also of the opinion that it is bad for the town to have a constant succession of sales claimed to be based on business failures. He says that there are men who make a regular business, in San Francisco, of buying up every cheap bill of goods they can find and shipping it into the interior under the claim that it is the bankrupt stock of some mythical firm. Most objectionable of all are those who ship in an outside stock of goods and sell it under the pretense that it is the local stock of a well-known firm. The Mayor is of the opinion that it is within the power of the city authorities to protect established merchants against outside com-

CONVENTION IS CLOSED

W. C. T. U. Women Leave for Los Angeles.

Mrs. M. B. Pelton of Selma Reads Paper on "The Divine Whisper."

The delegates to the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union closed their work with a rush yesterday and today most of them are on their way to the city of the south where the national convention is to be held. Many left on the Owl last night, the rest will start today and this evening.

Most of the day was occupied with business. In the morning reports were received from organizers and superintendents, who made a good showing in their various departments. Ten life memberships were granted by the convention on the usual payment, and in token of her services, Mrs. Renowden Bailey was presented with such a membership by the convention.

Convention Resolutions. The committee on resolutions, composed of Mesdames M. H. Cartwright, M. B. Pelton and A. E. U. Hillis, reported late in the afternoon.

The resolutions dealt in succession with: "The evangelistic work of the union; the teaching of purity; the evils of militarism; the good work of the Loyal Temperance Legion; the needs of laboring men; child labor laws; temperance departments in all Sunday schools; and other subjects as follows:

"Resolved that as causes are more important than results, we will seek the ballot so as to reach causes.

"Resolved, That we gratefully acknowledge the good work accomplished by the national department of purity, in literature and art in calling attention to the mass of corrupt publications, obscene pictures, patent medicines, get-rich-quick schemes and so on, and in securing legislation which gives the postmaster general the power to exclude all such from the mails; while we appreciate the motives of the publishers who have announced the exclusion of all liquor and patent medicines from their columns, we deplore the fact that their pages teem with wine, whisky, beer and tobacco heroes and heroines, with such noble traits in other respects as to commend all they do to the immature.

"Resolved, That we deeply appreciate the great kindness and courtesy extended to this convention by the people of Fresno; for the cordial welcome from the city through the mayor; for the welcome, reception and trolley ride tendered by the Chamber of Commerce; for the courtesies of the enterprising people of Fresno; to the musicians who have added such a charm to all the sessions; to the untiring committee on courtesies; the local and county unions, and all those who have opened their homes to us and made us welcome; for the generous subscription of $100 for the help of the business men, $50 for the donation of grape juice by the Sanitarium Food company; and last, but by no means least, to the W. C. T. U. Board of Directors, who so magnanimously tendered this beautiful hall for the use of the convention."

Afternoon Session. Floyd Starr, president of the Michigan Loyal Temperance Legion, addressed the convention in the afternoon at the beginning of the discussion of the question, "Why Is It the Duty of the W. C. T. U. to Establish Loyal Temperance Legions?" A platform exercise, "A School in Non-Alcohol Medication," was presented by half a dozen ladies and brought out a great many points on the needlessness of alcohol in healing sickness. A number of state banners were presented to the counties that had done the principal work in various departments.

The principal paper of the afternoon was that read by Mrs. Margaret E. Pelton of Selma. Mrs. Pelton is president of the county union, and goes tonight to Los Angeles as one of the eight delegates from this state to the national convention. Her paper was attentively listened to and was as follows:

The Divine Whisper of Today. "To cure is the voice of the past; to prevent the divine whisper of today." The memory of even a younger woman will recall the time when the entire weight of reform was directed toward curing existing evils. Our own great organization labored for years of weary years from this state of things, and now the great tidal wave of ruin by rescuing here and there one of the perishing and caring for the poor stranded, helpless, dying victims, but it soon became apparent that the returns were too small and the expenditure too large and old Mother Experience, that blessed teacher, came to the rescue, and like the divine Master she took a little child and hid it in the midst.

"Even then the eyes of many were hidden by their preconceived ideas of the work, but out leader caught the inspiration and bade them look, and look, and look until the visions grew. Now the little child has become the very corner stone of the 'house beautiful' we are building. George McDonald says: 'The woman who takes into her heart her own children, who is a very ordinary woman, but the woman who takes into her heart the children of others, she is one of God's Mothers.'"

"All the eloquence of song and story, all the skill of art and inspiration have united to give honor to Mary, that most blessed of women; but if the canny Scotchman divined the truth—the Motherhood of our Union has risen from the common walks of life into the glorious halo of the divine. Jeremiah, the dear sorrowful old Prophet, looking away down the vista of time and seeing the opportunity that should come to the Mothers of Israel in these days, sent this message singing down the ages, 'If thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth.'"

"O wondrous words of promise, was it not enough to be counted amongst God's Mothers but that every one, no matter how humble or ignorant, who has striven to save the children, to take forth the precious from the vile, that she should become his mouthpiece for the promulgation of God's eternal truths to a perishing world."

"Is there anything more precious than this little child in our midst, with his lovely winsome ways, his helplessness, his innocence, his suggestiveness—what seed can we sow in this virgin soil? Like a beautiful lily growing out of a noisome, pestilent pool, we hesitate to try to reach it lest by stirring the waters the purity of the lovely flower should be forever destroyed. One of our eminent statesmen has said and proven the fact by statistics, that we stand today first among the nations of Christendom in the proportion of higher crimes and the infrequency of their punishment; also the ratio of crime exceeds the ratio of increase of population. A noted educator said, 'We are to know more and more, that if we would have pure government we must have pure laws—if we would have pure laws we must have pure men to make these laws. 'If we desire a nation of pure men and women we must have pure girls and boys. If we expect our children to lead pure and beautiful lives, if we would have them think pure thoughts, do beautiful deeds, we must surround them with pure and beautiful influences in our schools and in our homes.'"

"Said a mother to her son as he went out from home into the life of the world, 'Though you travel the world over to find the beautiful, unless you carry it with you, you will find it not.' An old woodsman said, 'If I am to raise trees fit for masts, I must begin with the seed.'"

"Education is a growth from within, outward. Cardinal Newman says of education: 'It aims at cultivating the public mind—at purifying the national taste—at refining the intercourse of private life.'"

"Education is development; strengthening and vivifying every element of a child's life; physical, mental, moral and spiritual."

But while we are so advanced as a nation in equipment for educating the young, there is with us an insidious power, a movement well planned to destroy the very foundation of all character building. Vile papers and books are circulated among the pupils of our public schools, indecent pictures are flaunted in their faces from every billboard they pass, and what is worse, our postal laws discriminate in favor of this vile literature by taking yearly at one cent a pound, nearly forty million pounds of books like 'Manhattan Mike and the Bowers Blood,' and by charging eight times as much for transporting school books, Bibles and literary works."

"Fathers and mothers ought to know the awful dangers to which the children are exposed. The whole business should be branded as an emanation from the pit, monstrous and infernal."

"The most insidious source of tares today are our popular novelists and story writers. A force that is monthly played before the large audience of the American people is that produced by some of our most popular magazines declaring that no liquor or patent medicine advertisements will be displayed within their covers when, almost, if not quite every story and serial abounds with smoking and drinking heroes and heroines of such strength and grandeur of character as to throw a halo around all that they do."

"Six hundred years before Christ a Greek Sage studying the problem of how to mold public sentiment, announced as the result of his observation: 'If I may make the songs of the people I care not who shall make their laws.'"

"Since the early dawn it has been realized that the effect of potent force in creating public sentiment is not in farce or persuasion, but a subconscious influence exerted through the imagination."

"The religious thought of the world was changed by this same insidious subconscious influence that permeated in such subtle ways almost every page of fiction a decade ago, and many a poor soul is now floundering in this sea of doubt without chart or compass, while but for this poison distilled so artfully from current literature, would be still safe in the old Ship of Zion strong in the faith which is as an anchor to the soul."

"Mothers, there are many whispers for your own and your children's ears that are not divine. Long ago William D. Howells, called attention to this sinister influence and in his own characteristic way hoisted the danger signal. Another agency can be so powerful, so all pervading as the influence of the printed page."

Would it not be well for us to, at least, give as much attention to our family reading matter as we give to the food we place before them. If the body must be protected against impure and adulterated foods how much more closely should we scrutinize the food of the mind that is to make or mar the human soul. You will be glad to know that the effect of the W. C. T. U. department of 'purity literature' art' the attention of congress was called to the floods of indecent literature and pictures passing through the mail and of the patent medicine advertisements, etc., in our papers that were not calculated to be a moral uplift, so bills were passed and authority given to the postmaster general to exclude all such from the mails. Keep your eyes open for the new samples of any such things you see to the postmaster general and he will order its exclusion from the mails; if we wait for someone else to do it, it may never be done, so be alert. Watch as well as pray."

"Sisters, Comrades, Gods Mothers, do you realize this benediction? If God needs us in the creation of these little immortals, how much more does he need us to train them up in purity. Listen for the divine whisper and then follow, follow where He leads."

"Let us begin at home and so fill the young mind with all good, and noble aspirations that there will be no room for the vile."

"Yes, the husbandman sowed good seed, but while he slept an enemy sowed tares. To snare us is we must not rest. Eternal vigilance is the price of purity. The enemy is always at hand and the tares in plentiful supply. Do not think that you can guard your own and neglect your neighbor's children. One vile child can corrupt an entire school or neighborhood. We stand or fall together. There are no immunes in this war but with diligent cooperation with our school boards and teachers, a friends and loving solicitude for mothers and children; and above all a plentiful and constant distribution of our best literature everywhere, we may hope for some degree of success, and if we would add to this the picture branch and send a case of pictures with each traveling library. If we could hang a picture of Frances Willard in every schoolroom, a copy of Hoffman's Christ in our prison cells, we would thus silently and powerfully appeal to many whom we could reach in no other way."

"And last, let us if we would indeed be God's Mothers, stand for juvenile courts, where the children and youth who have turned into the evil way, may be turned back into pure and healthful channels. The large percentage of young offenders who develop into pronounced criminals through association with the worst element in our jails and prisons is simply appalling."

"While the records of the juvenile courts wherever established have proven beyond a doubt that the divine whisper to prevent is indeed the keynote for all moral reform."

Election of superintendents of departmental work followed, nearly all the present incumbents being re-elected. Mrs. M. B. Pelton was re-elected as superintendent of purity in literature and art. Mrs. M. F. Norwood was re-elected as state organizer.

At the conclusion of the afternoon, the members of the Fresno union in the hall were called to the platform, to receive the acknowledgements of the convention, which Mrs. Robert Ballagh replied to in a short speech. She expressed the pleasure of the Fresno union in being able to entertain the visitors, and in doing so took another shot at the Fresno ministers, whom she hoped, would co-operate with the union in the future more than they had in the past. The convention was formally closed with the ceremony of all present joining hands in a great circle around the hall, and singing, 'Blest be the Tie that Binds.'"

Evening Address. The delegates met in the evening for a short time to listen to a talk by Floyd Starr of Michigan on the subject of the Loyal Temperance Legion, which was well received.

The Fresno executive board met for a short time yesterday morning to finish up business connected with the convention. Mrs. W. B. Green, the treasurer, leaves tonight for Los Angeles, to be gone a week. Other Fresno county women to go are, Mrs. M. B. Pelton, Mrs. M. F. Norwood, Mrs. Deyo, Mrs. Rhea and Mrs. M. K. Pickrell.

Mrs. M. F. Norwood was authorized by the local union to thank all who had in any way assisted in defraying the expenses of the convention.

RE-OPENING OF Y. M. C. A. Class Work Will Be Taken Up Today With Renewed Vigor.

The gymnasium classes and all other departments of the Young Men's Christian Association will today be again opened to members as before the W. C. T. U. convention. The senior gymnasium class will meet tonight and a large attendance is desired, as Physical Director Fee has a few remarks to make in connection with the association work.

The Searchlight Bible class will meet at 6:30 o'clock tonight. The members will have lunch prepared for them at 6 o'clock. The study in very interesting and the membership increases rapidly. F. N. Miner, the popular teacher, will conduct the class. Mr. Miner has made many friends among the members and deserves the increasing interest which is being taken in his work.

The business men's class is increasing in membership very rapidly. Those who have joined in the last few days are M. B. Harris, W. O. Miles, C. S. Hill and A. E. Snow.

Fourth Year of Pastorate. Rev. W. W. Howard, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church, has returned from San Jose, where he attended the annual church conference. He has been assigned to Fresno for the fourth year as pastor of the Zion church. Mr. Howard has done a good work in Fresno among his people, who gladly welcome him to his fourth year of pastorate. He expects to transfer East next conference year so that he may take a course in theology in some Eastern institution.

Broke Arm in Play. John Drenth, Jr., aged 14 years, broke his arm yesterday afternoon while wrestling with another schoolboy on the Hawthorne school grounds. The boy was taken to the office of Dr. T. N. Sample, where the broken bone was set. The break is a bad one because it is close to the elbow joint. The injured boy is a brother of Policeman Ben Drenth.

To Fight at Colma. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—Marvin Hart, the heavy weight pugilist, has accepted the offer of the Colma club of San Francisco for a match with Al Kaufman. The club's offer, made through Billy Roche, calls for an un-roun fight for a purse of $15,000. The offer is contingent on Kaufman winning Friday night over Jack O'Brien in San Francisco.

FATAL MISTAKES Think of a simple mistake in a name costing tens of thousands of lives per year. But it is a fact. Every third or fourth person will admit a little kidney trouble. We are suddenly waking up to the fact that the deaths from this cause are over 60,000 per year, and that it is Bright's Disease. Dr. Loomis of Bellevue Hospital, declares nine-tenths of people over 40 have some form of Bright's Disease, and the Health Commissioner of Chicago, in October, 1904, showed that six per cent of the adult young of that city have it.

And the census shows that out of 53,612 deaths from kidney trouble in the year 1900, 58,749, over nine-tenths, were due to Bright's Disease. What is to be done? Simply this—No matter how mild your kidney trouble is, to be safe, treat it at once as Bright's Disease. There is only one specific for it—Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease. Recovery is almost certain, nearly nine-tenths recovering. Ask for remarkable booklet that includes no cases except those that were supposed to be incurable. This booklet is for thoughtful people.

TO THE LEWIS AND CLARK EXPOSITION
will do well to remember that the Hill Military Academy offers splendid home-like accommodations for all who visit Portland during the exposition. The location of the academy is ideal for such purposes as it is situated less than ten minutes walk from the entrance and close to street cars. It is the only building in a large block in the center of the best residential portion of the city. Meals will be served at a canteen in the spacious dining room connected with the academy. For rates and reservations apply to J. W. HILL M. D., Prop., Portland, Oregon.

SOCIETY

Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson of Oleander was hostess yesterday at a most delightful luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Stephen Scott, a visitor from Michigan and a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Munson of this city. The luncheon table and dining room decorations were in pink and white and the reception room in violets. At table with the hostess were Mrs. Scott, Mrs. E. F. Barrows, Mrs. Ronald Harris, Mrs. Munson, Mrs. Lively, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Willard Brooks and Mrs. Leonard Church.

Miss Dolly Tarpey and her aunt, Mrs. Cleary, who have been visitors at the Tarpey ranch, left for San Francisco yesterday morning.

Mrs. Mabel Gray Lachmund is expected on Friday for a week-end visit with her mother, Mrs. John D. Gray, who leaves early next week for a winter in New York.

Dr. D. A. Davidson, of Nashville, Tenn., with his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Pritchett, and little grandson, Joseph Dobbins Pritchett, is expected this evening on the Owl for a visit with his son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Davidson.

Miss May Erwin has returned from a trip to San Francisco. Mrs. Hollenbeck with her two daughters, Mrs. John White and Miss Hollenbeck will return on Saturday.

The men of the Unitarian church have engaged Kohler hall for Thursday evening of this week and have invited the ladies of this church and all of their friends to be present. The young people and their friends are also invited. A novel entertainment has been arranged by the gentlemen and the ladies are to respond by providing refreshments. Everything will be free and a very cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the church. That the evening will be full of surprises is judged from the mysteries hinted at by the entertainment committee.

Mrs. George Maul is expected today from Kenosha, Ill. to join her husband who accompanied his brother-in-law, O. L. Everts, home from the East some weeks ago. They intend to make their home in Fresno.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. at its regular monthly meeting decided to give a handkerchief bazaar on the evening of December 1st in the association rooms. The proceeds from the sale to go toward the building fund of the association. Social features will be a part of the evening's entertainment and also refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Everts are expected a visit from Mrs. D. E. Keuler, wife of a prominent Philadelphia physician, and a former classmate of Mr. and Mrs. Everts in Kenosha, Ill. Mrs. Keuler is said to be a clever, capable and able and if her brief visit permits there will be some entertaining in the Everts home.

home in her honor. She is expected to arrive on Saturday.

Mrs. Irving McDonald, who has been spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. George Andrews, left yesterday for Tonah and will stop en route to visit friends in Reno.

Mrs. A. D. Olney entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of her guest, Mrs. David H. Downing, who returns on Thursday to her home in Nebraska. The luncheon table was charmingly decorated in an effective arrangement of nasturtiums. Those asked to meet Mrs. Downing were: Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. John Jansen, Mrs. T. R. Meux, Mrs. F. K. Prosser, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. O. M. Thompson, Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. George Edmunds, Mrs. George Niles, and Mrs. Thomas Boyd.

The Oleander Study club will meet this week with Mrs. A. J. Rudy.

The Friday Card club will be entertained this week by Mrs. Willis Pike.

The literary department of the Parlor Lecture club assembled for the first meeting of the season yesterday and began their year's work, which will consist of varied programs on various subjects of popular interest. Yesterday the members discussed the life and work of William Morris in whose career interest was awakened by the recent lecture of Miss Anna Cronsky. The department meets fortnightly.

On Monday afternoon Master Insley Brain, little son of Mrs. E. Brain, celebrated his fifth birthday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. V. I. Willis. A dozen little boys and girls were invited to share in the birthday merrymaking and the day was a delightful success. There were any number of entertaining games, among them a fish pond, each little guest receiving a remembrance of the day as a result of the fishing. When refreshment time came the guests were seated at a beautifully decorated table glowing with candles and tastefully decorated with red roses and similar. A Jack Horner pie was one of the attractions of the feast, each small guest having the privilege of pulling out a plum. Then, too, there was a birthday cake alight with the five twinkling candles.

The guests were: Francis Waterman, Edward Church Waterman, Harold Schulz, Ruth Newlin, Ruth Moore, Milo Russell, Austin Gray, Elliott Shepherd, Walter Chappell, Ida Hughes, Reginald Schell, Emily Schell.

Miss Katherine Due, who has been the guest of her cousins, the Misses Balthis on Blackstone avenue, returns today to her home in Stockton.

There will be a happy double wedding this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Babcock, No. 824 N street, when H. G. Butler of the Republican composing room weds Miss Myrtle Kennedy of Columbus, O., and R. D. Hastings, one of the linotype operators, takes for his bride Miss Gertrude Graham, also of Columbus. The prospective brides arrived from the East last night. The young men have been in Fresno for the past six months and during that time have been in the Republican's employ, and are bright and capable. They were former residents of Columbus and it was there that the double romance began which is to culminate in tonight's wedding service.

DISLIKES SMOKE

Tonight at the Barton the Eckhardt Company will be seen for the fourth time its engagement in the sensational four act comedy-drama "A Fight for Honor." It is an intense story of absorbing interest, teeming with humor and lively action, and is one of the best bills in the Eckhardt repertoire. Tomorrow night the company will lay off for "Peggy From Paris" but will continue the engagement Friday night with the powerful society drama, "A Wicked Woman." A matinee will be given Saturday at 2 o'clock, when "Virginia" will be presented. Matinee prices will be 10 and 20 cents. Saturday night will be the roaring farce comedy "After the Ball" and Sunday night for the farwell performance "The Inside Track." Seats are on sale all day, prices 10, 20 and 30 cents.

"Peggy From Paris" is coming to the Barton tomorrow night. This is George Ade's musical comedy which has scored a tremendous success in New York, Boston and Chicago and wherever it has been presented. Critics and public have united in praising the wit, merriment and originality of the comedy, and have agreed in their admiration of the music, which was written by William Lorraine.

"Peggy From Paris" outranks most musical comedies in respect to story and action. There is really an interesting comedy which would make an entertaining play even if the music were eliminated. Given the added attractiveness of bright and catchy music and there is formed a combination which creates one of the most successful plays of the kind ever written. "Peggy From Paris" is particularly strong in interesting and amusing characters. The types are varied but all are of unifying amusement. There are country folk who visit the city and find its way strange and mysterious; there are city folk who have great sport with unsophisticated, guileless rustics; there are theatrical people and society leaders, men about town and that elegant but pursues actresses; there are men and women of exalted position who display the American weakness of paying homage to distinguished foreigners, and there are many other types with which the public is familiar and that are entertainingly caricatured. The persons in the play are skillfully drawn by Mr. Ade, who gives them his brightest and best in wit, humor and satire. William Lorraine has written delightful music for the play. There are a great variety of airs, and the music of "Peggy From Paris" has become popular wherever it has been heard. Wit, humor and satire is alternated with bright and merry music for comedians and chorus. The scenery and costumes are of rare beauty and attractiveness. Seats are on sale all day.

"Arizona." By Augustus Thomas, which has had such a phenomenal success in New York and Chicago is, as the title would indicate, a stage picture of the scenes, people and costumes of that frontier territory in the great southwest. The people of "Arizona" are cowboys and cavalrymen, ranchers and Mexicans, and the various types of womanhood to be found about a frontier army post and a prosperous ranch. The story thrills with the vigor of Western life and is rich in the color of the half-Spanish, half-civilized territory from which the piece takes its name. "Arizona" will be seen in this city at the Barton next Monday night, October 30th. The sale of seats will open tomorrow morning.

Greetings, Fellow Christians! Regardless of denominations. There are to be held two bible study meetings for the promotion of Christian knowledge, and not to build up another sect, of which, as all agree, there are already too many. These lectures or discourses, are to be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Edgerly block, over postoffice, on the evenings of October 25th and 26th. By Pilgrim John Harrison, on the subject of the "Millennium, or Christ's Thousand Year Reign and Its Object." All are cordially invited to attend. No collections. Free tracts.

Y. M. C. A. Open. The Y. M. C. A. is open to members in all departments, the W. C. T. U. convention having adjourned.

Miss Kate Parsons, Florist 1917 Fresno, Phone Main 460. Cut flowers, floral designs.

And County Employe Says He Doesn't Give a "Damn" if He Sues.

S. N. Griffith does not like being smoked. Cigar smoke is not the kind through the improper feeding of the oil smoke. His objections are centered in the pumping plant of the county situated in the courthouse grounds directly opposite Griffith's residence on M street. His objections are voiced in a letter to the Board of Supervisors as follows:

"Gentlemen, I beg to inform you that through the improper feeding of the oil through the burner in the engine house that large quantities of heavy smoke and particles of oil are carried through the smoke stack, which through all last season seriously damaged my residence both inside and out. This year I have frequently noticed the same thing and have called the attention of your Mr. Smart to this unreasonable damage to my property, which is all caused through carelessness.

"I told Mr. Smart this morning that if this thing continued I would sue the county, to which he replied that he didn't give a damn.

"As this matter is wholly under the control of the Board of Supervisors I am certain that it is only necessary for me to call attention to these facts to have the matter remedied at once.

"Sincerely yours,
S. N. GRIFFITH.

German Imperial Bank. BERLIN, Oct. 24.—President Koch of the Imperial bank, replying to an inquiry today, said the international money situation is not satisfactory. There is no likelihood of the rate of discount of the Imperial bank being raised as the bank's situation is favorable. Alluding to the Japanese business in Germany, President Koch said Japan is in no way bound to leave her balances in Germany.

San Diego Liquor License. SAN DIEGO, Oct. 24.—The city council last night granted fifty-six liquor licenses to saloons, wholesale liquor and restaurants. Four applications were held up for investigation but probably will be granted under a second ordinance all licenses had to be renewed and the number hereafter is to be restricted to sixty.

Bryan Met Togo. TOKIO, Oct. 24, 6 p. m.—W. J. Bryan was present at the reception in honor of Vice Admiral Togo today, and he was introduced to the admiral by the mayor of this city. There was a cordial exchange of sentiments between the two, the admiral expressing himself delighted at the unexpected presence of the distinguished American.

Rancher's Narrow Escape. SAN DIEGO, Oct. 24.—S. Michaels, a rancher, while driving a team hauling a load of lumber, was thrown from the wagon when it swerved in crossing a railroad track last night, and the horses ran away. A wheel of the wagon struck the man's head but it rolled it away instead of crushing it. He was badly injured but will recover.

NEWS NOTES
FROM GUAM

Severe Storms Made Havoc in Saipan Isle.

Commission Will Revise and Codify Laws of That Far-Away Possession.

AGANA, Guam, Sept. 27, via San Francisco, Oct. 24.—A severe typhoon prevailed from the 26th to the 29th of last month in this vicinity. No damage was done on this island, but on the 4th of September a Japanese schooner arrived in the port of Apra dismantled and much damaged, reporting that in the neighborhood of Saipan the gale had been particularly severe.

Governor Dyer then dispatched the station ship Supply with medical and other stores to the relief of that island, and called to Governor Sempit of Yap, who immediately went to the assistance of the people. It was found on his arrival at Saipan that, while the damage done was extensive, no immediate need was felt as a German steamer from Hongkong had arrived two days after the storm and provided necessary stores and medicines. While the year's crop of copra and other products had already been gathered, the coconut trees, which are the main dependence of the island, are in such condition that they will not produce for the next two years. The government house, store house, church and many native dwellings are in ruins.

A commission has been appointed for the purpose of revising and codifying the laws of the island.

A hospital aid association is being organized among the most prominent native women of the island to do missionary work and overcome the prejudice of the more ignorant class of natives of modern medical methods and to assist in other ways in the good work. The governor, Commander George L. Dyer, U. S. N., has requested relief on account of the state of his health, and will be replaced by San Francisco with his family on the station ship Supply at the end of October.

The insular artillery station, an organization which has existed in the islands since the early days of the Spanish occupation, was replaced on the 1st of September by a police department.

Eastern Star on Excursion. SAN DIEGO, Oct. 24.—More than ninety members of the grand chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, which met in Los Angeles last week, are in this city today, the guests of the local lodge. The day was spent in auto-mobiling about the city and a trip to Mexico. Most of the visitors will be here for a few days.

Fate-Finding Fun For Halloween

ALLHALLOWEEN, that intensely interesting and quaint festival, is almost upon us. "What shall we do by way of testing fate that we haven't done shoals of times before?" is the question asked by lots of girls at the present moment—girls who feel that to let this portentous eve pass unnoticed would indeed be like tempting Providence.

Of course one is obliged to create novelty merely by ringing the changes on the old love potions and conjurings that have worked "for weal or for woe" for many generations. But like old wine, old books and old friends they are the best after all. It is rather in the decorations of the room where the spirits of divination will hold high carnival that one's ingenuity can display itself to most advantage. Every one knows that these decorations should be as freakish and ghoulish as possible and savor richly of mystery and harvest home.

A large, comfortable barn, if one lives in the country, is an ideal place for the Halloween party, but most hostesses have to be content with turning the drawing and living rooms into a "gherkin." The season itself suggests that autumn leaves be used profusely. It sounds very lovely to say "Go into the woods and gather gayly colored leaves" for this decoration, but as a matter of history old Mother Nature has an unfortunate trick of doing her children out of her most coveted treasures at the crucial moment. Autumn leaves proving no exception to this rule have often not been found when wanted. It is safer and better to purchase or make your autumn foliage. Beautiful colored leaves made of crumpled paper are to be bought for $3.50 a thousand, and when wired and hung upon bare tree branches are quite as effective as the real thing. These leaves can be made at home by any clever woman whose fingers have a "knack." Take a natural leaf for a sample and cut two thicknesses of paper the proper shape between which wire is inserted to form the stem, the latter being twisted around the branch. The leaves when finished are dipped in aniline dyes of different shades of red, and the effect is delightfully brilliant.

Drape the walls with two tones of pumpkin yellow cheesecloth and place great branches of gold and crimson leaves over them. Fill in the corners of the room with small trees from whose branches crumpled paper leaves flutter like natural ones.

Marigolds will be charming banked with these eerie adjuncts it ought to be a simple matter to thrill deliciously while the fateful trials are in progress.

It would be lots of fun for the hostess on the mantelpiece with a background of bronze and gold leaves. Hang a huge bunch of autumn leaves from the chandelier and string small red apples and tangerines over the portieres. The only lights should be candles and jack-o'-lanterns made of pumpkin and squash shells. If a few scarecrows are seen leering out of the shrubbery the effect is especially weird. These awe-inspiring objects are easily made by bailing up the leaves of cornstalks for the head and arranging some flax streamers for the hair. A pair of roly-polly owls perched here and there give an appropriate air to the night's festi-

ty. To dress up as a witch and surround herself with a group of little boy gnomes cleverly got up in earth colored cambric suits belted with red. Long, pointed beards should cover their faces, and on their heads should appear wicked looking horns. The witch should array herself in a long, red gown bordered with serpents, frogs and lizards, which may easily be cut from pieces of black material and pasted on the dress. On her head will be seen a tall pointed hat of scarlet, with a black veil caught at its tip, the hat rising from a crown of carrots. If she likes to tell fortunes from a cave or gypsy tent so much the better for the general effect. Another effective witch's costume is achieved with a red quilted petticoat, a tight peasant bodice in black, filled in with yellow, yellow panthers draped over the skirt, a little red cloak, a red or black pointed hat and a broom. A row of cat's heads—the kind that come in the shops printed on muslin—could be cut out and applied on the dress around the hem.

A good way to open the fun is to hide

an enormous imitation diamond ring—a big solitaire like the end man at the minstrel show delights his audience with—in some part of the room and ask the guests to find it. The person who runs it to cover becomes the matrimonial candidate of the year. In one household a ring of this kind has been used at twenty-five successive Halloween parties and in every instance has been the means of providing a life partner for the finder. This trophy is kept for one year and returned in time for the next festival.

Drawing one's fate out of a caldron of alcohol is another exciting dive into the future. The witch writes on a number of pieces of paper the following words: "A marriage," "Hard luck," of witen nazi from the chandelier. To the point of one rod is tied a piece of bread, on another a cake, on a third a candle end and on the fourth a red pepper. While the rods are twirled about several of the guests bite at the objects as they pass them. According to the catch will the life be, either peppy, commonplace, delightful or peppery.

There are several ways of discovering the name of the life partner, but the apple peeling test is the most fun. Pure an apple carefully, cutting round it and keeping the peel in one continuous ribbon. Twirl this about the head three times, repeating these lines: I pare the pippin round and round again, My sweetheart's name to flourish on the plain; I fling the unbroken paring o'er my head, My sweetheart's initial on the ground to read.

To find out whether you will marry or not, three dishes in a row. Fill one with milk and water and one with water. Leave the other empty. The candidates are blindfolded and told to put their fingers in one of the dishes. The milk and water denotes a widower or widow, as the case may be, the water a husband or wife, and the empty dish signifies that single blessedness is to be your estate in life.

Whether a girl will marry a rich or poor man is determined by placing in one dish salt, in another Indian meal and allowing one to remain empty. The salt is for silver, the Indian meal for gold and the empty dish denotes poverty. The one into which, while blindfolded, the hand is dipped determines the future financial estate.

Housekeeping in Russia. An Englishwoman residing in the interior of Russia, thus describes her housekeeping experiences: "As 'small' sugar is unobtainable on the steppes, one is obliged to break up a huge two pound or three pound lump into pieces and crush in a pestle and mortar.

"I believe that churns may be procured in big towns, but they would be very expensive. The English residents in country villages, who do not care for the smoke flavored Cossack butter, make their own by shaking cream in a big bottle. The Cossack servants are capital laundry women, though their washing appliances are low wooden troughs to wash the clothes in and boil them in open boilers. The system of mangling is rather curious. First they wrap the things carefully around a wooden roller, like a pastry pin, then press it up and down a board scored with nicks, loosely laid on the table.

To Make Feet Small. To lessen the apparent size of big feet either wear spats or (and this is better) have part of the uppers made of light cloth.

Sandwiches For the School Luncheon

EGG SANDWICHES.—Moisten the yolks of hard boiled eggs with olive oil and a few drops of vinegar and pour to a powder. Make into a paste and add a little salt and pepper. Chop the whites of the eggs as fine as possible and mix them with the yolks. Spread the paste on thin slices of brown or white bread.

Peanut Sandwiches.—Roll freshly roasted peanuts to fine crumbs. Salt to taste and mix the powdered nuts with enough cream cheese to make a paste to spread on the bread.

Beef Sandwiches.—Chop rare cold roast beef very fine. Season it with salt and pepper and make into sandwiches with thin slices of graham bread.

Sardine Sandwiches.—Take the backbones out of the required number of sardines and rub them to a smooth paste with a little butter and lemon juice and spread between thin slices of brown bread.

Tongue Sandwiches.—Butter slices of white bread with a dressing made of one part mustard and five parts butter seasoned with salt and pepper. Lay between the bread thin slices of tongue. Cheese and Nut Sandwiches.—Found equal proportions of grated cheese and chopped English walnuts to a paste and moisten with thick cream. Season and spread between thin slices of bread.

Three Ways of Roasting Meat. In the case of roasting at an open fire—which is, of course, the best method—the fire should be so prepared before putting the joint to it as to last, with but slight addition of fuel, during the whole time of cooking. Place the joint close to the fire for ten minutes, then withdraw a little, and till it is done, baste it thoroughly at short intervals. It is best to allow fifteen minutes to the pound of beef or mutton, and twenty minutes for pork and veal, and in each case about a quarter of an hour or so.

In roasting by any kind of closed range great care must be taken to have the oven clean, if any fat, etc., from former cooking is allowed to remain it will impregnate the meat with an odor and taste which is most unpleasant. A roasting oven if properly ventilated, scrupulously clean and supplied with a double dripping pan—the under of which must contain water—will cook meat to great perfection.

To roast by gas the same rules apply, and it is most important that the cooking should proceed slowly. The meat requires no basting or other attention until it is done.

GOSSIP AND GLEANINGS FOR WOMEN.

Corded handkerchiefs have developed from the quaint styles with "dimity borders" to styles with cords crossing and recrossing at intervals over the whole handkerchief.

As a consequence of the interest in broadcloth, new, beautiful shades of colors have come out in this fabric, and are still more beautiful by the satin sheen of the finish.

Next time you burn any milk take the saucupen off the fire and stand it at once in a basin of cold water. Put a pinch of salt in the saucupen, give the milk a stir, and you will find that the burnt taste has almost, if not entirely, disappeared.

Glass teapots are gaining in vogue, and lovers of the beverage are rejoicing. The pots are made of tempered glass and are trimmed delicately with bands of gold or silver. Inside the teapot is a hollow ball of silver. The charm of the crystal teapot lies not wholly in its beauty. There is the additional advantage that the teakemaker can see just what quantity she has in the brew.

WESTERN LIFE INDEMNITY CO. FILED DEFENSE.
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The deal for the purchase of 8000 shares of the Security and Annuity Life Insurance company for $100,000 by the Western Life Indemnity Company, was closed on the day before the meeting of the policyholders of the latter company was to be held, presumably to submit the proposition to them for their approval or rejection.

This new development in the tangled affairs of the Western Life Indemnity company was made known by Attorney Mayer today when he appeared for the officials of the corporation cited before Judge Kolbas for contempt. The contempt sought to be shown was this particular transaction, alleged to have been executed in defiance of an injunction secured purposefully to prevent execution of this deal. The defense outlined in court today that the deal was closed long before the petition of the policyholders was filed in court.

Ball Promoters Disappear.
There will be no ballroom men's ball tonight at Armory hall. The promoters of the ball have disappeared and have taken the fifty cent pieces of a large number of persons with them. The two men in question contracted with Manager Barton for the use of Armory hall and for music and with Longwell for tickets. They took away 500 tickets without paying for them and sold many of them. Both men have disappeared.

EFFECT OF RAISIN CUT STABBED BY MAN HE FIRED

Directors Expect to Make a Discharged Employe, Drunk, Clean-Up. Attacks Meat Man.

Rebate on Goods Already Sold. Proprietor Henderson of Frisco Market Slashed Across Chest and Leg.

The directors of the Raisin Growers' Company expect to make a clean-up tomorrow evening, the time set for confirmation of the reduced prices on seeded and seedless. The prices were made with the understanding that a large block of raisins would be sold. The Raisin Growers' Company expects by the cut to close out all the goods on hand. Such a coup was accomplished in 1902, one of the most successful years of associated effort. The question now presenting itself is whether the packers composing the Mercantile Company, will take upon their own responsibility enough raisins to clean the boards over if the present trade orders do not cover all the raisins.

One prominent packer yesterday said "No" to this suggestion. He declared the packers would merely submit the orders they had received from the trade. If the orders are not sufficient to justify the cut, suggested the same packer, the growers' directors will find themselves in a peculiar position. Having a willingness to cut, the jobbers would not look at raisins at the old figure. So that while the cut is nominally conditional, practically it seems irrevocable.

It was too early yesterday to notice the effect on the coast. Today, though, the wires will begin to tingle with orders, it is confidently believed. The reduction was not made without a fight on the Eastern pulse. Three or four days ago the packers wired their Eastern brokers to inquire whether a reduction of a cent a pound would move raisins. The unanimous reply was that it would. Now, it seems up to the brokers to make good. It is also reported that if the reduction takes effect a rebate will be made on the goods already sold. While this that the man had guaranteed it is argued that good faith with the trade would dictate the pull-back. The amount of the rebate is estimated at between $10,000 and $80,000.

The effect of the cut was noticeable on the outsiders. Outside packers having goods in transit had to meet the cut upon them, and the price for outside raisins dropped to 3 1/2 cents. The situation is that there are more goods than buyers. The outsiders have about all the goods they want and the insiders can't buy outside raisins. There is talk of the inside packers getting "special dispensation" to gather in all the goods on the outside and thus steady the market.

The greater part of the raisins signed to the growers' company have been delivered, but there are some notable exceptions. Three men who took a leading part in the organization of the company have not yet delivered a pound of raisins. These are M. Theo. Kearney, Colonel William Forsyth and Dr. Meux. Several growers who undertook to sell their raisins outside the combine have been promptly sued, but the big growers named are simply biding their time. There is no time limit for deliveries and the company apparently has nothing to do but wait.

The joke in raisin circles last evening was afforded by interviews with M. Theo. Kearney in the New York commercial papers of Monday, which Mr. Kearney telephoned to last evening's Democrat. In her weak mind she said that no cut would be made. Said he: "At the present time seeing that there is little or no carry-over from last year, that this crop is considerably less than last year's crop, and that the quality is excellent, and therefore any surplus may be carried over very safely into the next year, I can see no sign of any business reason why prices should be reduced, and I do not believe that they will be reduced."

The very day that the interview appeared the cut was made. Obviously Mr. Kearney's gift of prophecy will suffer in New York.

The slowness of the season has produced some retrenchment in the expenses of the Central California Packing company. Inspectors and stock clerks have been reduced to 33 a day and even the wages of the girl operators are said to have been reduced.

MILLIONAIRE KILLED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

B. Frank Clyde of Philadelphia Lost His Balance and Fell Beneath Locomotive.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Losing his balance as he was about to board a westbound train approaching the Tenth and Locust street station of the Pennsylvania railroad, B. Frank Clyde, vice president of the William B. Clyde Steamship company and a millionaire clubman, was dragged under the wheels of the locomotive and instantly killed. His body was terribly mangled and his face crushed beyond recognition. While his body was being extricated from the forward trucks of the car, under which it had been wedged, Mrs. Clyde, unaware of the tragic end of her husband's life, passed the scene of the accident on a train coming to the city from Bryn Mawr, where Clyde was bound when he met his death.

Clyde maintained a city residence, but spent most of his time at his country house. He was 53 years of age and married only three months ago to Mrs. Bloomfield McIlvaine. He was well known in business, society and club circles, and was a director of the Central, National and Delaware insurance companies.

EQUITABLE LIFE TRUSTEES PREPARE TO ELECT DIRECTORS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Grover Cleveland, Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, the stock voting trustees in the Equitable Life Assurance society, today sent through the secretary circulars to all the policy holders of the society asking for suggestions as to the selection of thirteen directors to be chosen by the trustees. The circular announces that the next annual meeting of the directors will be held at the office of the society in New York at noon, December 31st, when the trustees will vote for thirteen directors of whom seven will be taken from the policy holders.

Judge Church Tells Baldwins to Make Up. Rev. Bulglin Says the Devil Rocks People to Sleep.

Fresno Masonic Temple Company Incorporation Papers Are Filed.

"If a home is to be broken up I don't want this court to be a party to it," said Judge Church yesterday morning when he denied the petition of Mrs. Mary H. Baldwin for a decree of divorce from William H. Baldwin. "I do not think you have separated so far that you cannot make up and be happy. You should settle your family troubles for the sake of your children. You lived together for seventeen years and you were happy in your married life. I fancy this is a matter that might well be settled and I advise you to settle it and preserve the home the rest of your lives."

This is the way the divorce case ended. Mrs. Baldwin declared that the husband had pinched her and treated her cruelly. She charged him with infidelity. Yesterday morning Baldwin went on the stand and denied the charges. He said that in fun he had pinched his wife but that he had not done so with malice. The charge of infidelity was refuted, saying that he had collected a bill from the correspondent, but that his relations with her had never been disloyal to his wife. Baldwin was the last witness for the defense. The plaintiff put on three witnesses in rebuttal. These witnesses covered points of little importance. Everts & Ewing represented the husband and Crichton & St. John the wife.

Masonic Temple Incorporation.
Yesterday afternoon the articles of incorporation of the Fresno Masonic Temple Co. were filed by Attorneys George Cosgrave and W. A. Sutherland. The directors named are A. B. Clark, O. J. Woodward, D. D. Allison, W. B. Holland, W. A. Sutherland, A. V. Lisenby and George Cosgrave. The capital stock is $75,000 of which $5525 has been subscribed.

The subscribers are D. D. Allison $250, C. T. Cearley $100, A. B. Clark $250, A. S. Collins $100, Lee L. Gray $250, M. K. Harris $50, H. P. Hedges $250, W. B. Holland $250, M. D. Wilson $100, O. J. Woodward $250, G. W. Smith $250.

Miscellaneous Matters.
A suit for divorce was filed yesterday by Attorney A. M. Drew. The complaint is entitled John T. Morgan against Belle Morgan. The ground of complaint is desertion. The wife has been living in Springfield, Mass., for more than a year past.

Lawrence Woodcock promised Judge Austin yesterday that he would be good. Lawrence is a boy prone to wander about chasing butterflies in preference to attending school. Truant Officer Finerty brought him into the juvenile court and on the boy's promise of good behavior the youngster was allowed to go.

Daniel Neuhart wants $5000 because George A. Damon and H. W. Scott hitched their teams on his lot in Whitson's addition to Selma. Attorney Jas. A. Burns yesterday filed answers for the two men sued. They say that a rental of $20 a month is sufficient pay. Damon claims to owe only $500 and Scott only $20.

James Madison et al against the Octave Oil Co. was continued by Judge Church to November 24th.

The Minaret Mining Co. has filed articles of incorporation. The directors are Fred Barcroft and A. E. Preciado of Madera and T. H. Smith, J. W. Scott and C. F. Johnson of Fresno. The capital stock is $75,000.

A Pretty Home Wedding.
At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, two miles east of Clovis, at 3 o'clock on Sunday, J. C. Cloyd and Miss Mae P. Brown were united in marriage, Rev. Dr. W. B. Farr officiating. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends from Modesto were present to witness the ceremony. The happy pair left immediately for San Francisco where they are spending their honeymoon. Cloyd is a prosperous young farmer of Modesto and the bride a popular young lady of Clovis.
